Foreword

The 1967 Falcon staff hopes that this book will provide a picture of the year's most memorable events. The year is gone but will never be forgotten. Each of us carries with him a few of those special memories which will be treasured throughout the years.

Each student has his own memories. What freshman will forget his first high school dance. What sophomore will forget his first date. What junior will soon forget the hectic planning for the Prom, the relief of no longer being the "lowest," and the prospect of soon being the "best."

For the seniors, there will be memories of graduation and perhaps one of those notorious "after parties," or maybe a jubilant 18th birthday. There is also the feeling of insecurity at the crossroads of adolescence and adulthood.

For each person there will be different reasons for remembering the past year. Some will be happy, some sad, but all will be unique. Each of us will someday look back and say, "Nineteen sixty-seven, that was the year when. . ."

The six men on the school board have made many decisions this past year. One of them concluded the construction of the #310 office adjacent to the north side of the Fairfield building.

The school board has co-ordinated all of the school lunch, bus, and purchasing programs throughout the district.

Mr. C. T. Thomas, #310 superintendent; Mr. Carl Haetten, our principal, and the school board have spent many hours of hard work to make this year a success. We appreciate their devotion to this task.

A Letter to the Seniors

UNIFIED DISTRICT NO. 310

C. T. THOMAS, SUPERINTENDENT
LANGDON, KANSAS 67549
May 26, 1967

To the Seniors
Fairfield High School
Langdon, Kansas

Dear Seniors '67

I congratulate you on your successful completion of high school. You are joining a select group as you receive your diploma. You will be joining a more select group if you enter and graduate from college.

You have been exposed to many avenues of learning and have been participants in the many and varied activities of the school. You have set goals for yourself and have reached many of them. Some goals were set too low and were reached too easily. Other goals were set too high and as yet have been unattained. As you look in retrospect, it is within your power to reappraise your accomplishments and your failures and to set other goals for your life. Unless your goals exceed your present reach, you will find little pleasure in reaching your goals too easily.

It is my hope that each of you will take that which you have gained in school and will continue forward to gain greater benefits. Your accomplishments are up to you.

If you strive to achieve, you will not fail. If you "hold back" your energies, you will fail.

Sincerely

C. T. Thomas

Juniors Are Talented

The Junior class of 1966-67, under the leadership of president Ronnie Roots, had a highly successful year. The Juniors showed their talent in music, debate, forensics, and sports. The Junior Class play, "The Curious Savage," and the Junior-Senior prom, "Days of Wine and Roses," were two more successes brought about by the Juniors. This has been an outstanding year of great showmanship for the Junior class. We hope they will become even more talented Seniors next year.

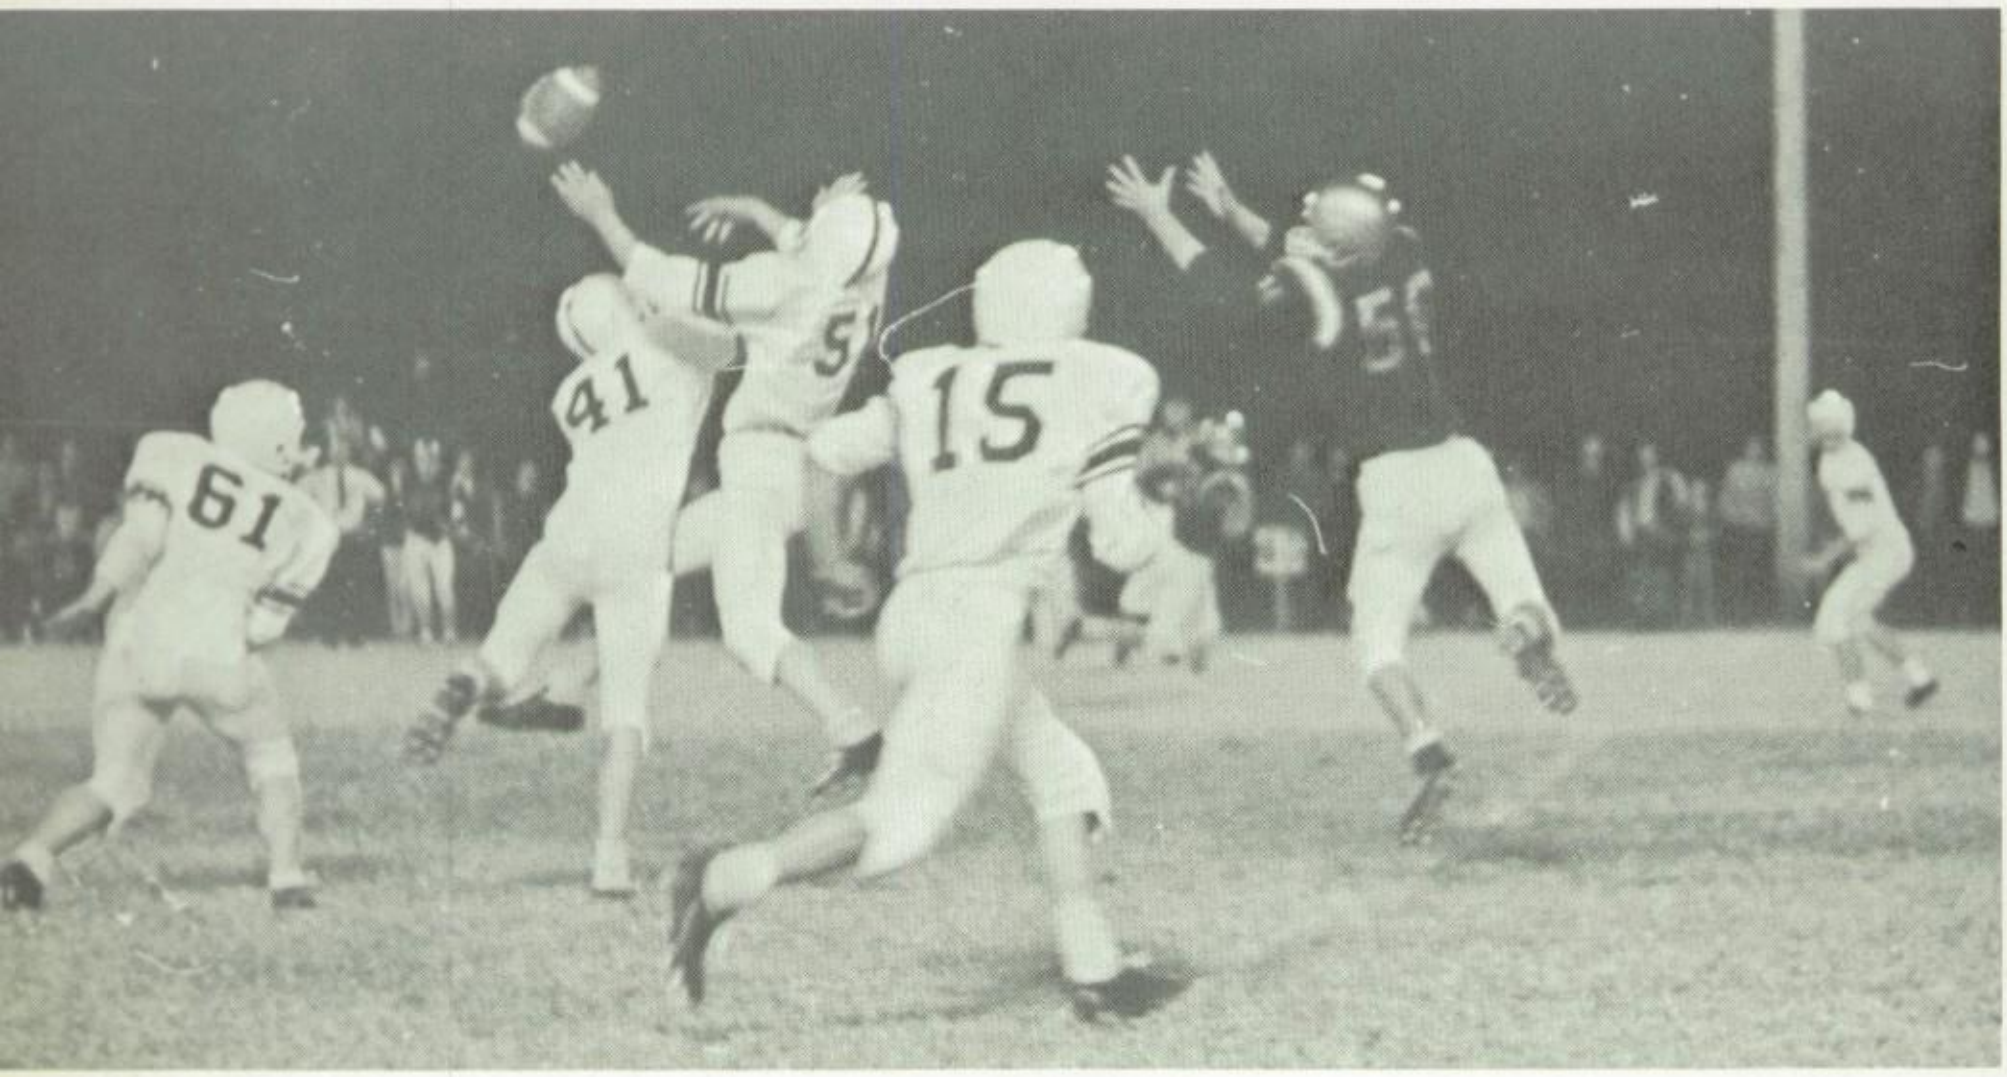
Falcons in Action



The 1967 football season started with 33 men and ended with 30, since there were a few dropouts and injury plagues during the year.

Never lacking in spirit, the Fairfield Falcons showed a variety of thrills along with the spills which they received.

The teams first year in the Mid-Kansas League proved to be an interesting year although the Falcons did not have a winning record. Many anxious moments were provided for the Falcon fans, team members, and coach.

Coached by Calvin Schroeder, the freshmen worked hard to come up with a win in football. Even though the freshmen did not have a winning season they learned through experience. After a tough season this year, the freshmen have the ability and spirit to help strengthen the Falcons next year. Next season should be one to look forward to.

Falcons Take District

This was Fairfield's first year in the Mid-Kansas League. Although Fairfield was smaller than the other schools in the league, the Falcons did quite well. The season's record was 8 wins and 14 losses. The Falcon's defeated St. John in the finals at the District Tournament. This was the first time Fairfield has ever won the District Tournament. The Falcons lost by 1 point to Anthony in the first round of the Regional Tournament. The Falcons had very stiff competition this year especially in league play. The Mid-Kansas league had two state champions this year. The Falcons won all their non-league games, except for Anthony at the Regional Tournament. Coach Daniels was quite pleased with the Falcon's performance this year.

Homecoming Queen

1966-67

Miss Peggy Davisson, a senior, was the football homecoming queen for the year 1966-1967. During her high school career, Peggy has participated in many activities. Peggy was elected cheerleader her junior year and head cheerleader her senior year. She has been on the Y-Teen cabinet for the past two years, social chairman the first year and president for the year 1966-67. Peggy was also treasurer of the senior class. Besides her many elected offices, Peggy has been an active member of both vocal and instrumental music. She was a member of the drum ensemble, girls triple trio, and madrigals.

A Taste of Royalty

If the Fairfield Art Classes of '66 - '67 are to be remembered, it will undoubtedly be for the little Choir Boys who graced the main hall during the Christmas season and the many posters made throughout the year.

After the class studied lettering, some of the posters they made were for the Junior and Senior Plays, Fashion Review, Vocal and Band Concert, and May Fete. Also, the art classes were asked to make place cards for a social function. For Valentine's Day and Easter, they again decorated Fairfield's main entrance with symbolic pictures. Later their caricatures of outstanding people were on display at the Turon Library. This followed a miscellaneous exhibit at the Turon Library.

Art Class

Under the patient and capable guidance of Miss Boyce, the young artists learned the value of the color chart, unusual watercolor techniques, and how to work with paper mache figures. They began the year by painting on newspapers. Soon they learned fundamentals of sketching the human face with each individual feature and then the hands and feet. The class came to know the basic techniques of landscapes, broken color, abstracts, caricatures, and modernistic still life.

It has been a year of achievement and deeper appreciation of art, due largely to the effort and interest on the part of Miss Boyce.

Concert Band

The Concert Band reigns supreme in the instrumental music department at Fairfield High School. Utilizing the knowledge and skill of two band directors, Francis Farr and George Smeltzer, the band increased from 52 members last year to 72 members this year.

At the State Fair the band marched to "The Pink Panther" by Henry Mancini. Though not a traditional marching selection, "The Pink Panther" was definitely a crowd pleaser. The band presented a show at Grace Hospital, consisting of "Downtown," featuring a dance routine by the twirlers, and "Watusi Trumpets," featuring the entire trumpet section.

Besides presenting three football half-time shows, the band marched during the Turon Pioneer Days celebration and was honored by an invitation to participate in the Homecmoing Parade at KSTC of Emporia.

During concert season, the Falcon band presented three concerts and competed in League and State music contests

This year the band membership chose Cynthia Hester as recipient of the John Philip Sousa Award in recognition of outstanding musicianship, performance, and attitude.

Kay Royse, Kathy Cooper, Judy Thayer, Phil Yust, Trudy Thayer, Bonnie Waddle, and Cynthia Hester provided student leadership for the band this year. The twirlers and drum major Phil Yust began working early in the summer to prepare routines for the marching season. At the beginning of the concert season, Mr. Farr conducted try-outs for the position of Student Director. Since Kay, Phil, and Cynthia all demonstrated skill and potential, Mr. Farr decided that since there were three concerts, there could be three student directors; each performing at one concert. Kay directed "The Syncopated Clock" by Leroy Anderson at the spring concert; Phil conducted John Cheetham's "Beguine for Young Moderns" at the Pop Concert; and Cynthia presented Paul Yoder's "Arkansamba," also at the Pop Concert.

Instrumental Music

Eight ensembles were organized in the instrumental music dept. this year. They are as follows: brass choir, brass sextet, trumpet quartet, horn quartet, percussion ensemble, clarinet quartet, flute trio, and flute choir. Of these eight, two received I's at State Contets--the clarinet quartet and the flute choir; the remaining six ensembles all received II's.

The ensembles were organized from the members of the concert band. Each ensemble practices separately to prepare for the Federated Tea, League Contest, State Contest, and the many other performances which were given. The extra practice necessary for the ensembles made each individual more proficient on his instrument, thus improving the quality of the concert band.

Chorus

The pride of the vocal music department at Fairfield is the Mixed Chorus. Under the direction of Mr. Vern Zielke, the seventy-voices-strong chorus presented two concerts, a Christmas Concert and a Spring Concert. In addition to the two concerts, the chorus participated in the League Vocal Contest and the State Music Contest. At both contests the chorus sang "Music Spread Thy Voice Around" by Handel, and "Ride On, King Jesus," a Negro spiritual.

From the ranks of the Mixed Chorus came the Boys Glee, Girls Glee, and Madrigals, which are pictured on the following pages, as well as the Girls' Sextette and Boys' Ensemble.

As does the instrumental department, the students participating in vocal music select one senior each year to receive the Arion Award. The selection is based on musical ability, leadership, participation, and attitude. This year the students chose Judy McIver as the person who has contributed the most to the vocal music department at Fairfield.

Judy is a member of Mixed Chorus, Girls' Glee, Madrigals, and the Girls' Sextette, and took a solo to both League and State contests.

Everybody managed to work in a little gossip between "With A Voice of Singing" and "Black Is the Color" during those 3rd Hour Tuesday practices.

Girls' Glee

Don't let these angelic faces fool you! They may sometimes sing like cherubs but they never act like them!

Boys' Glee

The Madrigals were one of the busiest vocal groups this year. The Madrigal Singers were Larry Davisson, Regner Rider, Keith Burnett, Everett Childs, Bob Fluke, Dave Childs, Phil Yust, Gary Cole, Cynthia Hester, Lynette Kueck, Peggy Davisson, Beth Bradshaw, Linda Krenzin, Judy McIver, Rita Ewy, and Kay Royse, usually practiced two hours a week. Performing everything from "My Heart is Offered Still to You," a traditional Sixteenth Century madrigal song, to the latest Ray Conniff arrangement of "Three Coins in the Fountain," the Madrigals sang at different clubs, the Christmas Concert, the World Wide Day of Prayer Service, and the Spring Concert. The Madrigals received a I at League, and a II at State. On May 10, the madrigals presented a program to each of the grade schools in USD 310, and on the way home, gave an impromptu performance for a county road crew. The Madrigals were also featured on the instrumental Pop Concert, singing selections by Cole Porter. The final performance of the 1967 Fairfield Madrigals was at Commencement where the group sang "No Man Is An Island."

Madrigals

The accompanists, the backbones of the chorus, were Kay Royse and Cynthia Hester.

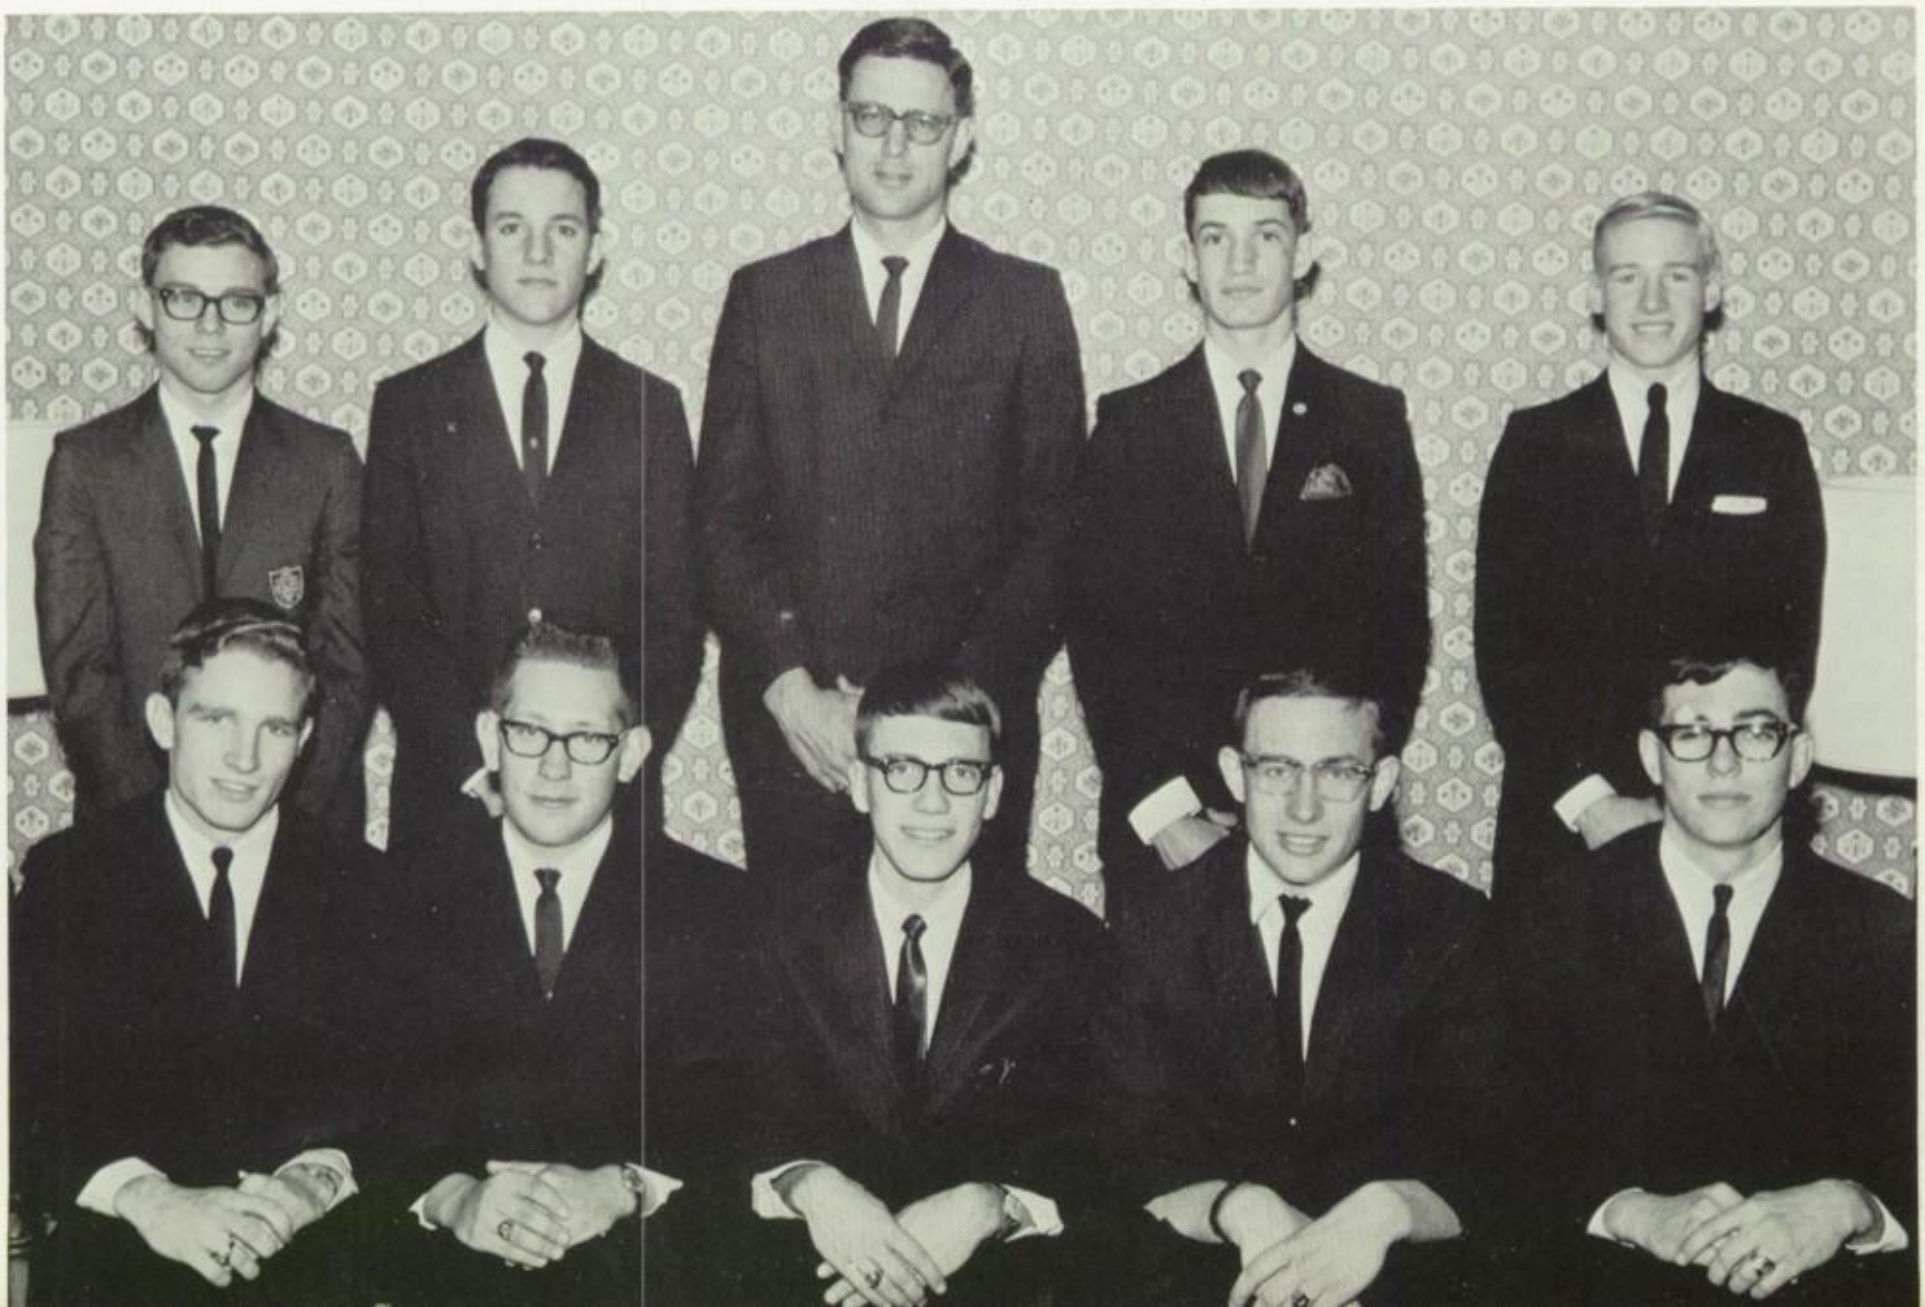
Hi-Y

The Fairfield Hi-Y Club officers for the school year 1966-1967 were Bobby Fluke, president; Merlin Jackson, vice-president; Wayne Nunemaker, sergeant-at-arms; Brad Evans, secretary; Regner Rider, treasurer; Everett Childs, Chaplain; and Larry Breidenstein, reporter.

This year, the Hi-Y had a slumber party held in the gymnasium which was fun but a little tiring. The Hi-Y officers went to Oklahoma for a campout.

Ten members from the Fairfield Hi-Y Club attended the Hi-Y, Tri Hi-Y Model Legislature held in the capitol building in Topeka. Boys who attended were: Senators, Bobby Fluke and Gary Cole; Representatives, Leslie Kuhns, Ronnie Roots, Regner Rider, Tom Gibson, Sydney Holmes, and Paul Rider; Delegates in Training, Larry Breidenstein and Scott Burnett.



Tri-Hi-Y Club

The 1966-67 Tri-Hi-Y Club of Fairfield High School consisted of 28 girls. They were as follows: Argie Koons, Gayla Peacock, Yvonne Linder, Sheryl Kopper, Martha Gagnebin, Robin Leathermann, Virginia Shafer, Carol Hooker, Pam Locke, Judy Thayer, Diane Davidson, Trudy Thayer, Patty Geesling, Signe Rosenblad, Rose Watchoski, Deborah Biggerstaff, Bonnie Waddle, Michelle Bruce, Patricia Childs, Lynda Fulks, Janice Weiss, Ann Nunemaker, Lynette Kueck, Louise Harris, Kay Royse, Marta Hoskinson, Connie Zink, La Ree Borth, and Mr. Wm. Neuenswander.

The officers for Tri-Hi-Y this year were: President, Marta Hoskinson; Vice-President, Connie Zink; Sergeant-at-Arms, Lynette Kueck; Secretary, Kay Royse; Treasurer, La Ree Borth; Chaplain, Louise Harris; Reporter, Ann Nunemaker. Our sponsors were Mrs. Ted Lindahl and Mr. Wm. Neuenswander.

On March 14, fifteen of our members traveled to Topeka to visit the governor, the Senate, the House of Representatives, and the Governors Mansion.

Twenty-two girls attended pre-Model Legislature this year. This year our club was very fortunate to have Kay Royse elected from our club to serve as a committee chairman in Topeka. Kay is the first girl from Kansas to be elected as an officer for Model Legislature in Topeka. Connie Zink was presented with an award for best Representative in the House at Topeka. This is also the first time a girl has received such an award.
